THE REALITY SHOW

Welcome To The Barn – The Reality Show

There are no horses in this barn, but there's a lot of horsing around!

Featuring LittleHouse preparing for their Saturday evening "Welcome To The Barn" shows. Follow the antics of these baby boomers as they fend off time, work through band conflicts and thwart "Tiny Tyrant", the local authority who wants to shut them down.

These guys just won't quit; everyone is rooting for them!

Show Creator

I'm Joe Patrina,
singer/songwriter and producer of the Welcome To The Barn reality show DVD.

A few years ago in Connecticut, I constructed
"The Barn", a full-blown sound stage with heating, air conditioning, top stage
lighting, sound reinforcement,
and professional grade
musical equipment.

After staging 100 live shows something magical happened.

Because of the Barn's intimacy, the audience, in effect, joined the band, but more, THE BAND JOINED THE AUDIENCE!

Suddenly everyone was in the band, and the fans started raving about the atmosphere, saying that I had to take the whole experience to a national level. I decided to create a reality show where America's living rooms could be brought inside
the barn's inner circle!

In addition to filming the enclosed pilot feature, we released a "live" CD to Jango Radio, receiving 5,000 likes from a much younger demographic than the one experienced at the barn itself.

We want to reach this expansive baby boomer/young adult demographic through a scripted reality/sitcom format.

Episode Content

In our “musician’s” world, there are many stories, personalities and songs that can fuel episodes, with each episode a blend of drama, comedy and performance excerpts. Episodes are structured both to stand on their own and to build a show legacy that is drawn upon each week. Episode examples:

Objective

We have the sound stage, the talent, plenty of content and management!

LittleHouse, the “east coast” partner will story board the episodes; supply the venue, the actor/musicians, and the film crew.

We are looking for a “west coast partner” to flesh out the scripts, direct the filming, edit and assemble the takes, and interface with the distributor TV network.

This promotional package contains a DVD with a ½ hour “scripted” reality TV” pilot titled: An Eating Disorder, preceded by a 3-minute sizzle version of the show to get you started.

Also enclosed is the Welcome To The Barn “LIVE” CD, to give the potential partner a feel for the engaging atmosphere of the band’s Saturday night barn shows.
